Foreword

This extraordinary report provides an up-to-date portrait of the people and their housing in Boston's neighborhood areas, and is the product of the Neighborhood Statistics Program of the U.S. Bureau of the Census. These data represent the culmination of a four-year collaborative effort between the Census Bureau and the Boston Redevelopment Authority (on behalf of the City of Boston). The result of this first-time joint effort is exceptionally valuable information.

The Neighborhood Statistics Program provides Census data in detail and in a readable and accessible format not otherwise available for sixty-two Boston neighborhoods, data useful for a variety of planning and policy purposes. The Boston Redevelopment Authority will use these data in its planning and development work; other government, business, and nonprofit groups can also make use of them.

An attractive feature of these data is their usefulness to all who need Census information by varying geographic configurations. The Research Department of the Boston Redevelopment Authority has grouped the sixty-two neighborhoods into sixteen planning districts, facilitating analysis of neighborhood change 1970-80. (The City's Neighborhood Development and Employment Agency currently works with nineteen planning areas, excluding "Downtown" and "the Harbor Islands".) Others may choose groupings which might more nearly reflect their program boundaries.

As the flow of information from the 1980 Census proceeded, a number of reports have been issued by the Boston Redevelopment Authority and more are planned. The reports issued thus far include the following:

- Race and Hispanic Origin of Boston's Population, 1980 and 1970;
- Dimensions of Income and Poverty in Boston, 1970-1980;
- Electoral Districts in Boston: Characteristics of Their Inhabitants as Revealed by the 1980 Census;
- The Boston Elderly, by Neighborhood, Race and Ethnic Origin.

Work in progress, or scheduled, include reports on the:

- Analysis of Population and Housing in Boston's Neighborhood Areas, 1980; Sixty-two Reports Prepared by the U.S. Bureau of the Census;
- Analysis of a Decade of Change in Boston's Population and Housing, 1970-80;
- Analysis of Change in Boston's Population and Housing, by Planning District, 1970-80;
- Analysis of Change in Boston's Labor Force, by Planning District, 1970-80;
- Comparative Analysis of Population and Housing in Boston with That of Other Large Cities and Metropolitan Areas, 1980.
